

Historic, Archive Document

Do not assume content reflects current scientific knowledge, policies, or practices.

2.57 219175
ST. REGIS

RASPBERRIES

A FEW WORDS ABOUT
THEIR MANY FINE
QUALITIES

ARTHUR R. HEGGAN

WATERFORD WORKS, NEW JERSEY

A FEW facts concerning St. Regis red raspberries and why you should buy them from me.

The St. Regis is very hardy. It winters better than any other variety I know of.

They are less liable to be affected by root-gall.

They are a good shipper and a bright red color.

They come earlier than any other variety we know of.

You will get a good paying second crop. They are no experiment, as we have grown them here where they originated for several years; in fact, all other varieties are almost discarded here in this section, and this is a large raspberry growing section.

Now, why should you buy from me? Because I will give you the best references that can be had. Because I have been a farmer all my life and I fully realize the futility of planting poor plants.

Because I am right here in the centre where practically all the St. Regis are grown. They will be dug and shipped direct with but one small profit.

If I were in it simply for the dollar, I could offer you a dozen so-called new varieties of plants. The fact is, the St. Regis is a money-maker. You will find out later that you have made a mistake if you do not plant a patch. About six years ago I planted 20 acres of Miller raspberries. At this time, if I could have gotten enough St. Regis plants and planted the 20 acres with them instead of the Miller, I honestly believe I would have been $10,000 in pocket.

I give you fair warning, do not make the mistake that I made.

For the benefit of those who would like references, I refer you to the following people:

HAMMONTON TRUST CO.,
Hammonton, New Jersey.

GEO. R. PRATT,
Leading Grocer of Waterford, N. J.

F. S. NEIPLING,
Leading Fruit-grower of Waterford, N. J.

ELMER STAFFORD,
President of the Berlin Bank, Berlin, N. J.

WM. SNYDER,
Leading Financier of Berlin, N. J.

I quote you the following prices:

$8.00 per thousand, $4.50 for five hundred,
$1.00 per hundred in anything less than 500 lots.

Cash with order.

A deposit of $1.00 per thousand will secure order for spring delivery at rates quoted above.

M^Y plants are grown on the best of raspberry land,
which insures strong, healthy plants of the best raspberry known

